CNAME

The CNAME (Canonical Name Record) is a DNS system record identifies the domain name as an alias for a "master", or a "canonical (FQDN).

CNAME records must always point to another domain name, never directly to an IP address.

From:
http://docs.intenogroup.com/glossary/ - Inteno Glossary

Permanent link:
http://docs.intenogroup.com/glossary/c/cname

Last update: 2018/08/10 18:16