IPv6 Address

An IPv6 address is an IP address address represented as eight groups separated by colons (:). Each group contains four hexadecimal digits.

An example of an IPv6 address is `2011:09bd:583a:0000:8a2e:0000:0370:7334`.

From:
https://docs.intenogroup.com/glossary/ - Inteno Glossary

Permanent link:
https://docs.intenogroup.com/glossary/i/ipv6_address

Last update: 2018/08/10 18:16